GRAND DESIGNS, ROSSHOLME STYLE

Amazing building work has been happening at Rossholme. Having always rented, we bought our first plot of land in 2023 and have now (nearly) completed the new school building. We now have 525 pupils and have created a space where the children can learn, play and reach their full potential!!

LETTER FROM JOYCE ARUGA, HEADTEACHER

We hope this message finds you well. We're also doing well and we are very grateful for the help and protection we have received throughout the school year!

Last year, 60 pupils graduated from pre-primary 2 (5 year olds) into primary school.

We also had 31 pupils who did their final assessment at Rossholme and have now joined junior school. Before they sat their exams, we organised a school trip where they visited Lake Naivasha and had a boat ride to Crescent Island! It was full of fun!

categories they competed in, they came first in three and proceeded to the next level. We look forward to competing at national level this year!

We've been building building building... Thanks to Tony Griggs' family, we've been able to construct a new school library in his memory.

We're also grateful to EACP who funded a permanent kitchen and classrooms and our friends from America who funded the construction of two more classrooms! The work is nearly done so take a look at the photos to see the transformation of Rossholme School! It's so amazing.

STOP PRESS....STOP PRESS....STOP PRESS....

On 27th March, Joyce, our Headteacher, and her husband Jacob, welcomed a healthy little girl into the world. Zevida Ivana joins 8 year old Doug and we send love and warm congratulations to them all.

Our lovely Rossholme friends, Kitty Hollingsworth and her nephew Christian Edbrooke, again did their 26 mile walk across Dartmoor last November, for the third time. Their departure and return were both in the dark and they were joined by several other members of this amazing community who walked various distances across Dartmoor and raised over £1500 for Rossholme. Yes there was some rain but nothing torrential and the accompanying dogs all enjoyed their long walks. We ended with a lovely meal at the Tradesmans Arms in Scorrilton and Rossholme is extremely grateful for the effort made and the money raised.

A VISIT FROM SOME FRIENDS

One of our Trustees, Steve Swan and his wife Julia, travelled to Nairobi in January to see the new building take shape. They took donations from supporters with them including two laptops, T-shirts for sport and library books.

Steve wrote: "We had a lovely morning with Joyce, who was extremely generous with her time and very patient with our many questions." The pupils at the school are aged from 3-13, taught by 17 teachers in 15 classrooms. Teaching is based on the Kenyan National Curriculum, in which English is a high priority. Importantly, the children receive two meals a day, prepared on site."

The kitchen provides breakfast and lunch for 550 children and 20 staff every day

Our wish list includes: upgrading desks, chairs and benches, more textbooks, library books, additional toilets* and kitting out the staff room.

Two other major future projects include: further education bursaries for selected pupils (at £500 a year for 10 years) and purchase of adjacent rented land to build additional classrooms and toilets. The total bill for this should be under £10,000. If you can support us in any way, please do get in touch!

FUNDRAISING

We are immensely grateful for some very generous donations which have enabled us to develop and equip our new school building on the site we were able to purchase just 2 years ago. As well as my brother's family who funded the new school library, particular thanks go to Mrs Carole Camping and Mrs Angela Potter.
